

Weekly Update: 14th May 2021

Dear Parents/Carers,

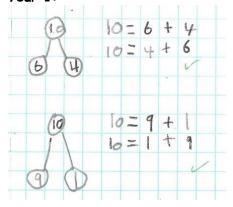

It has been difficult to know what time of year it is when we have had such cold wet days. I commend the children managing with 'wet playtimes' when they have had to stay in- a special mention to Gala class who impressed me in their indoor play this week with all the children engaged independently in a range of activities like draughts, colouring matching games and board games.

As head teacher I am often conducting 'learning walks' to assess the quality of teaching and learning across the school, and this week Mrs Ward and I have been conducting more formal lesson observations- we have been impressed by the children's 'behaviour for learning' in all classes. The lessons we have seen are representative of the broad, balanced and ambitious curriculum we are teaching here at Curry Rivel, exposing the children to high level vocabulary, building on prior learning and ensuring the children are gaining new knowledge and practising new skills. In Pippin, I was impressed with Pippin pupils' use of 'ten frames', Deines equipment and number lines to start adding numbers; Maigold demonstrated great tennis skills, learning how to hold a racket and how to hit a ball with accuracy; Gala have been writing their own creative version of the Owl and Pussy cat; Discovery were making predictions about their new text 'The Great Kapok Tree', English work linked to their learning about the Amazon rainforest; Camelot pupils were learning how to compose a piece of music using the 'Garageband' App (Chords, major and minor notes included!) and Blenheim were learning the complexities of rounders rules and how to avoid running your teammates out in a game! All lessons aim to develop 'sticky knowledge' so that children not only 'know more' but 'remember more'. Of course, we have areas to work on, and I am impressed that the staff here are so committed to their own professional development and improvement.

Presentation in Exercise Books

We are raising expectations regarding presentation in exercise books. We have shared exemplars with the children (see below for examples) and a poster outlining presentation rules means that everyone knows what we are looking for- well done to the pupils who have shown they really want to take pride in all the work they do.

Reminders:

Presentation Reminders...

If you make a mistake in pen, cross it out carefully with a neat single line through the incorrect word (use a ruler!) and then write the correct version above it!

Each piece of work should be titled and dated and must be underlined using a ruler Year 2+. Dates/titles should be normal size and on the left hand side.

Maths: Short date (10.05.21). One digit per square. Double margins for Year 4+.

Always have a sharp pencil and ruler at the ready.

Rule off your last piece of work before you write a new date and title.

If your writing will not fit, go on to the next line - not across the Always write on the top line!

Never write under the bottom line!

Road Safety

Thank you to all of you who have mentioned their appreciation of the school's attempts to make parking and driving around the school site safer. Unfortunately, there have still been issues this week, so I am now in contact with local PCSO to see how they may help to resolve this issue.

Pjamarama

Please see our Facebook page- we have had a great day wearing our pyjamas and sharing our favourite literature, stories and books. A 'random reading raffle' has meant many children have 'won' books to take home and keep. Thank you to Miss Tucker for organising this event. It has also been pleasing to see the librarians in action, with all classes borrowing books over the week for our lending library.

Well-Being Tip of the week

Get more sleep. Try making some small adjustments to routines, duvet weight, windows open or closed, caffeine and screen free time before bed... whatever will work for you.

Have a restful weekend.
